At twenty minutes past five o'clock Wednesday afternoon the JOURNAL-MINER received the telegram, giving an account of Captain Crawford's fight with the hostiles in Megico and his subsequent death, and at 8:45 it had the news on the streets in the E. J. Heuston's interest in the Oro Fino shape of a small extra. The news were presed, that of sorrow for the death of a brave officer.

The Gazette still keeps up a running fire of assertions about republican officials steal-ing themselves rich off the territory, while in off ce. We have asked the Gasette repeatedly for the names of the officials, and a list of their stealing, but it is mum as an oyster on that subject.

Morris Goldwater and his sister, Miss Annie Goldwater, will leave for San Francisco on Tuesd y next. Miss Goldwater goes to remain there, and will be greatly and by Prescott society people, as during her sojourn of nearly a year in our town, with her father and brothers, she has become quite a favorite in seciety.

Eugene Barnett, of the Plaza Livery Stables, while engaged in hauling brick, yesterday, was thrown from the high spring seat of the wagon, while crossing Grani'c Creek, above town, and was seriously in jured. For ten years "Jake's Saloen" has been a wel known resort there. About a year ago C. C. Hows, who spent most of his time prospecting in the neighboring hills, although with little success, suggested to Jake that they might "strike it rich" by investing in The Louisians State Lottery. On Jan. 1st, in the east, 1885, the two started in together to buy five $1 tickets every month for one year. They were lucky in the first drawing, and confinged winning small prizes amounting to over $209. Just before the last drawing they decided to quit buying tickets alto gether when the year was over. Howx went into the hills, Jake tended his saloon, and seither dreamed of the good fortune in store for them. When the news came over the wires that some one at Black's Station had drawn one touth of the capital prize, $150, 600, the little town was excited with curonity as to who was the lucky man. Jake went into his well worn pecker book, and was overjoyed on seeing that one of tile rown." The Best Internal Semedy. Brandreth's Pill, the best medicine know for all diseases. They are purely vegetable. The same dose always produces the same effect; other purgatives require increased doses, and finally cease acting. They purify the blood They invigorate the digestion and cleanse the stomach and bowels. They stimulate the liver and carry off vitiated bile and other depraved secretions. Th first two or three doses tells the story. The skin becomes clear; the eye, bright; the mind, active; digestion is restored; coefive ness cured; the animal vigor recruited, and
